7. What you have to pay

7.1 Charges

You agree to pay us the Charges set out in these Agreement Terms, the Product Terms and any other application terms and conditions. The Charges generally include the following:

- (a) Daily Supply Charge: this is a charge that applies daily, regardless of how much electricity you use.
- (b) Energy Charge: this is calculated based on the Electricity Rate and the amount of electricity you use, and a component may be based on how efficient your electricity usage is if your Product Terms indicate that a Price Efficiency Adjustment is payable. The Electricity Rate calculation is detailed in the Product Schedule.
- (c) Distributor Charge: any amounts that your Distributor charges us for services provided at your Supply Address and which do not already form part of the supply or energy usage charges, including disconnection fee, connection fee and special meter reading fee. We do not set these amounts as they are set by your Distributor.
- (d) Metering Charge: any amounts that a Meter Service Provider charges us for metering-related goods or services provided at your Supply Address and which do not already form part of the supply or electricity usage charges, including a disconnection fee, connection fee, meter work fees and meter reading fees. This may also include the cost of any non-standard work, modification or installation required relating to your meter.
- (e) Taxes: any taxes (including GST), duties, imposts, levies, regulated charges, costs, fees and charges that we have to pay (directly or indirectly) when we sell and supply electricity and GreenPower (if applicable) and other goods and services to you.
- (f) Card Payment Fee: a fee for paying by bank cards or another payment method where we incur a merchant services fee.
- (g) Other Charges: any other charges as specified in your Product Terms or communicated to you.

7.2 Additional charges

In some circumstances the following charges may apply:

- (a) any reasonable costs incurred by us for arranging network, connection and metering services for you. These amounts will be notified to you.
- (b) any reasonable costs incurred by us as a result of you breaching this Agreement or any Regulatory Requirements, unless those amounts are also included in one of the Charges.
- (c) if your payment is dishonoured or reversed and it results in us incurring a fee, we may recover the amount of this fee from you.

7.3 Security Deposits

- (a) You permit us to obtain credit checks to determine your creditworthiness from time to time.
- (b) Depending on your creditworthiness, we may require that you provide a Security Deposit.
- (c) The circumstances in which we can ask for a Security Deposit are governed by the Regulatory Requirements.

- (d) If you provide us with a Security Deposit, we will pay you interest on that deposit in accordance with the Regulatory Requirements.
- (e) We may use your Security Deposit to offset any amount you owe under this Agreement in accordance with the Regulatory Requirements.

8.2 Notification

We will let you know about any changes to the Charges in accordance with Regulatory Requirements. The notice of change may be by a message on your bill.

8.3 Variation of Charges during Billing Period

If the Charges change during a Billing Period then we'll calculate your bill for that period on a proportionate basis.

8.4 Price Efficiency Adjustment

Where your Product Terms indicate that a Price Efficiency Adjustment is payable, you acknowledge that:

- (a) the Price Efficiency Adjustment component of your Energy Charge is a variable rate based on the efficiency of your energy usage (this is described in the Product Schedule); and
- (b) unless the Regulatory Requirements state otherwise, the changes in the Price Efficiency Adjustment is not a variation of Charges for the purposes of this clause 8 and clause 8.2 does not require us to notify you of the changes to the Price Efficiency Adjustment or the applicable variable rate at any given time.

9. Billing and payment

9.1 Billing and communication

Unless the Regulatory Requirements say otherwise or we agree to communicate with you differently, we will send, and you agree to receive:

- (a) all communications from us electronically; and
- (b) your bill to the email address of your choice.

9.2 Electricity usage

Your energy usage charges will be based on the amount of electricity you use during a Billing Period, which will be determined in accordance with the Regulatory Requirements, generally by the Distributor or the Meter Service Provider measuring the amount of energy used by reading the meter at your Supply Address, or by estimating your usage. A component of your energy usage charges may be based on how efficient your electricity usage is if your Product Terms indicate that a Price Efficiency Adjustment is payable.

9.3 Billing Period

- (a) We will send you a bill to your nominated email address as soon as possible after the end of each Billing Period (which is set out in your Product Terms). If you do not have a Smart Meter, instead of sending you a bill after each Billing Period, we may send you a bill after an actual or estimated schedule read of your meter (which is typically on a quarterly basis).
- (b) If your meter is replaced by a Smart Meter during a Billing Period, in some circumstances, we may send you a bill in respect of the period before the replacement and a separate bill in respect of the period after the replacement.
- (c) You must pay each bill in full by the Due Date or make payments in accordance with your payment schedule or instalment plan.
- (d) We may change the Billing Period by prior written notice to you.

9.4 Estimates

- (a) You agree that we may estimate your usage in accordance with the Regulatory Requirements if we are unable to obtain metering data of your actual usage.
- (b) If your bill is based on an estimate and we subsequently obtain your actual usage, we will adjust a subsequent bill for the difference. However, if your bill is based on an estimate because you fail to give us access to your meter, we may charge you an additional fee if you ask for a bill based on your actual usage to cover our costs.

9.5 Payment Due Date

- (a) If you cannot pay by the Due Date or if you have difficulties paying your bill, you should contact us as soon as possible. We will provide you with information about payment options, payment plans or government support.
- (b) If you do not pay your bill by the Due Date (unless you've requested a review of the bill) we may do one or more of the following:
 - (i) apply any Security Deposit in accordance with clause 7.3 and where permitted under the Regulatory Requirements;
 - (ii) disconnect your electricity supply in accordance with clause 14; or
 - (iii) make arrangement (including engaging a third party) to obtain the payment from you.

9.6 Direct Debit

You agree that:

- (a) you will pay your bills under this Agreement by direct debit;
- (b) we may debit your account in accordance with any direct debit information you provide us; and
- (c) you will comply with our direct debit terms and conditions.

10. Metering

- (a) If you have an older type of electricity meter or a Smart Meter that is not Zigbee compatible, we may arrange a Zigbee compatible Smart Meter to be installed at your Supply Address. By entering into this Agreement, you consent to the existing meter at your Supply Address being replaced with a Zigbee compatible Smart Meter (if you do not already have a Smart Meter or if you have a Smart Meter that is not Zigbee compatible) and waive your right to opt out of having your electricity meter replaced. If the existing meter is replaced by a Smart Meter, you agree that your tariff and the Charges you pay under this Agreement may change. We will give you notice in accordance with Regulatory Requirements.
- (b) You may need to pay the cost of any non-standard work, modification or installation required at your Supply Address relating to your meter (including if those non-standard works relate to the Smart Meter). We'll let you know before we arrange these works.
- (c) If you do not have a Smart Meter and before your Smart Meter is installed, you explicitly consent that we will use estimates (as permitted by the Regulatory Requirements) and/or AEMO's or your Distributor's usage profile in respect of your area to determine your usage for each Trading Interval.
- (d) You agree that we or a Meter Service Provider may temporarily interrupt the supply of electricity to your Supply Address for the purpose of installation, maintenance, repair or replacement of a Smart Meter in accordance with the Regulatory Requirements. We will give you prior notice if your electricity supply will be interrupted but only if it is practicable or if the Regulatory Requirements requires us to do so.
- (e) If you do not agree to pay the costs referred to in clause 10(b), or if a Smart Meter is unable to be installed at the Supply Address for any other reason, then you will continue to be billed in accordance with clause 10(c) until a Smart Meter is installed.

11. Reviewing your bill

11.1 Bill reviews

- (a) If you believe there are errors with a bill, please contact us as soon as possible. You can also request us to review your bill, but you must do so as soon as you become aware

11.2 Meter tests

- (a) You may request for your meter to be tested as part of a bill review. If the test shows that the meter or meter data is not faulty or incorrect, you must pay the cost of the meter test.
- (b) If the review finds the bill is correct, you must pay the unpaid amount. If the review finds the bill is incorrect, we'll adjust the bill under review in accordance with Regulatory Requirements and you must pay the amount (if any) of the bill that is still outstanding after the adjustment.

11.3 Undercharge

If you have been undercharged, you will only have to pay the amounts that should have been charged in the time period allowed by the Regulatory Requirements prior to us notifying you of the undercharge, unless the undercharging occurred due to your fault or unlawful act or omission, then we are allowed to recover all amounts undercharged as long as it is not prohibited by the Regulatory Requirements.

Product Schedule

Power Renewable Home

1. Background

This schedule supplements the General Terms and Conditions and forms part of your Agreement.

2. Electricity Rate

For each Billing Period, the Electricity Rate used to determine the Energy Charges described in clause 7.1(b) of the General Terms and Conditions is calculated as follows:

$$ER = BR + PEA$$

where:

ER is the Electricity Rate;

BR is the Base Rate specified in your Product Terms or any other rate as notified by us to you from time to time in accordance with this Agreement; and PEA is the Price Efficiency Adjustment described in clause 3.2 of this schedule for the relevant Billing Period.

3. Base Rate and Price Efficiency Adjustment

3.1 Base Rate

- (a) The Base Rate specified in your Product Terms includes a Benchmark PEA. The Benchmark PEA will be specified on our website.
- (b) The Benchmark PEA broadly represents the average Customer Price Efficiency Adjustment of Flow Power's residential customers (as reasonably determined by Flow Power from time to time).
- (c) You agree that we may vary the Benchmark PEA by notice to you, where doing so is not prohibited by the Regulatory Requirements.

3.2 Price Efficiency Adjustment

For each Billing Period, the Price Efficiency Adjustment is calculated as follows:

$$PEA = CPEA - BPEA$$

where:

PEA is the Price Efficiency Adjustment;

CPEA is the applicable Customer Price Efficiency Adjustment described in clauses 4 or 5 of this schedule for that Billing Period; and BPEA is the Benchmark PEA applicable for that Billing Period.

4. Customer Price Efficiency Adjustment (Anytime Tariff)

- (a) If the current applicable network tariff type at your Supply Address is an 'anytime' or single rate tariff (i.e. the network tariff is the same for all Trading Intervals), then this clause 4 applies to you. If you are unsure about the network tariff type at your Supply Address, please contact us.

- (b) The Customer Price Efficiency Adjustment is an adjustment that reflects your usage patterns against the wholesale market prices, which is the Spot Price. This calculation is done using the Spot Price and metering data in respect of each Trading Interval in a Billing Period. The mathematical calculation of the Customer Price Efficiency Adjustment for each Billing Period is:

$$LWASP - TWASP$$

- (c) LWASP is the electricity usage (or load) weighted average Spot Price in a Billing Period calculated by:
 - (i) multiplying the Spot Price for a Trading Interval by your electricity usage at the Supply Address during that Trading Interval;
 - (ii) repeating the process in paragraph (i) for each Trading Interval in that Billing Period and then adding them all up to a sum total; and
 - (iii) then dividing the sum total in paragraph (ii) by the total electricity usage at your Supply Address in that Billing Period.

Below is an illustrative example of this calculation assuming that there are only 3 Trading Intervals in a Billing Period (note that Trading Intervals are currently 5 minutes each and a typical Billing Period is about a month, so this is a very simplified example):

Trading Interval	Spot Price	Usage
1	5 c/kWh	5 kWh
2	10 c/kWh	3 kWh
3	20 c/kWh	2 kWh

The LWASP will be calculated as follows:

$$= [(5 \times 5) + (10 \times 3) + (20 \times 2)] / (5 + 3 + 2)$$

$$= 9.5 \text{ c/kWh}$$

- (d) TWASP is the time weighted average Spot Price in a Billing Period calculated by:
 - (i) adding up the Spot Price for each Trading Interval in that Billing Period; and
 - (ii) dividing the sum total in paragraph (i) by the number of Trading Intervals in that Billing Period.

Below is an illustrative example of this calculation based on the hypothetical example above of 3 Trading Intervals in a Billing Period:

The TWASP will be calculated as follows:

$$= (5 + 10 + 20) / 3$$

$$= 11.7 \text{ c/kWh}$$

- (e) In the illustrative example above, the Customer Price Efficiency Adjustment for that Billing Period will be:

$$\begin{aligned}
 &LWASP - TWASP \\
 &= 9.5 \text{ c/kWh} - 11.7 \text{ c/kWh} \\
 &= -2.2 \text{ c/kWh}
 \end{aligned}$$

- (f) If your actual metering data for each Trading Interval is not available for a Billing Period (for example, where you do not have a Smart Meter), we will use estimates (as permitted by the Regulatory Requirements) and/or AEMO's or your Distributor's usage profile in respect of your area to determine your usage for each Trading Interval and across the day in order to calculate your Customer Price Efficient Adjustment.

5. Customer Price Efficiency Adjustment (Time of Use Tariff)

- (a) If the current applicable network tariff type at your Supply Address is NOT an 'anytime' or single rate tariff (i.e. the network tariff is NOT the same for all Trading Intervals, e.g. where there are different network tariffs for peak, off-peak or shoulder), then this clause 5 applies to you. If you are unsure about the network tariff type at your Supply Address, please contact us.
- (b) The Customer Price Efficiency Adjustment is an adjustment that reflects your usage patterns against the wholesale market prices (i.e. the Spot Price) and network usage charges. This calculation is done using the Spot Price, the applicable underlying network tariff rate and metering data in respect of each Trading Interval in a Billing Period. The mathematical calculation of the Customer Price Efficiency Adjustment for each Billing Period is:

$$LWAP - TWAP$$

- (c) LWAP is the electricity usage (or load) weighted average price in a Billing Period calculated by:
- (i) for each Trading Interval, adding together the Spot Price for that Trading Interval and the applicable underlying network tariff rate for that trading interval (Aggregate Price);
 - (ii) multiplying the Aggregate Price for a Trading Interval by your electricity usage at the Supply Address during that Trading Interval;
 - (iii) repeating the process in paragraph (ii) for each Trading Interval in that Billing Period and then adding them all up to a sum total; and
 - (iv) then dividing the sum total in paragraph (iii) by the total electricity usage at your Supply Address in that Billing Period.

Below is an illustrative example of this calculation assuming that there are only 3 Trading Intervals in a Billing Period (note that Trading Intervals are currently 5 minutes each and a typical Billing Period is about a month, so this is a very simplified example):

Trading Interval	Spot Price	Network Tariff	Aggregate Price	Usage
1	5 c/kWh	10 c/kWh	15 c/kWh	5 kWh
2	10 c/kWh	10 c/kWh	20 c/kWh	3 kWh
3	20 c/kWh	15 c/kWh	35 c/kWh	2 kWh

The LWAP will be calculated as follows:

$$\begin{aligned}
 &= [(15 \times 5) + (20 \times 3) + (35 \times 2)] / (5 + 3 + 2) \\
 &= 20.5 \text{ c/kWh}
 \end{aligned}$$

- (d) TWAP is the time weighted average price in a Billing Period calculated by:
- (i) adding up the Aggregate Price for each Trading Interval in that Billing Period; and
 - (ii) dividing the sum total in paragraph (i) by the number of Trading Intervals in that Billing Period.

Below is an illustrative example of this calculation based on the hypothetical example above of 3 Trading Intervals in a Billing Period:

The TWAP will be calculated as follows:

$$\begin{aligned}
 &= (15 + 20 + 35) / 3 \\
 &= 23.3 \text{ c/kWh}
 \end{aligned}$$

- (e) In the illustrative example above, the Customer Price Efficiency Adjustment for that Billing Period will be:

$$\begin{aligned}
 &LWAP - TWAP \\
 &= 20.5 \text{ c/kWh} - 23.3 \text{ c/kWh} \\
 &= -2.8 \text{ c/kWh}
 \end{aligned}$$

- (f) If your actual metering data for each Trading Interval is not available for a Billing Period (for example, where you do not have a Smart Meter), we will use estimates (as permitted by the Regulatory Requirements) and/or AEMO's or your Distributor's usage profile in respect of your area to determine your usage for each Trading Interval and across the day in order to calculate your Customer Price Efficient Adjustment.

6. GreenPower

- (a) We will:

7.6 Replacing faulty devices

- (a) If we troubleshoot with you and it appears that:
- (i) the Smart Device you have is faulty other than due to your action; and

- (ii) you have not breached this clause 7, then we will send you a replacement device, and we may also include a pre-paid return satchel with instructions on how to return the faulty device.
